PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO LEGION RINGS WITH FAIRNESS AND TRUTH

Forgetting Of Hatreds Is Urged As Necessary At Home If U. S. Is To Lead In The Cause Of Peace

SUPERIORITY IDEA HIT. TOLERANCE, LIBERALISM

Says Look Beyond Race Creed. No Monopoly Of Patrotism And Character. Opportunities Vary."

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 7.—While an estimate number of 150,000 members of the American Legion, representing many racial stocks listened, President Calvin Coolidge, who set a precedent by being the first chief executive of the country to visit an American Legion Convention, addressed the national convention of the Legion here Tuesday.

The President's speech was characterized by that deep prudence and fairmindedness that is generally associated with the highhearted New Englander. The keynote of his speech was tolerance and liberalism in dealing with all peoples.

Honor Men Who Fought

In the high points of his speech, President Coolidge declared:

"The war brought a great test of our experiment in amalgamating varied factors into a real nation, with the ideals and aspirations of a united people. None was excepted from the obligation to serve when the hour of danger struck. The event proved that our theory had been sound. On a solid foundation of national unity there had been erected a superstructure which in its varied parts had offered full opportunity to develop all the range of talents and genius that had gone into its making. Well-nigh all the races, religions and nationalities of the world were represented in the armed forces of this nation, as they were in the body of our citizenship. No man's patriotism was impugned or service questioned because of his racial origin, his political opinion, or his religious convictions. Immigrants and sons of immigrants from the central European countries fought side by side with those who descended from the countries which were our allies; with the sons of equatorial Africa; and with the red men of our own aboriginal population, all of them equally proud of the name Americans.

All In Same Boat

"We must not, in times of peace, permit ourselves to lose any part from this structure of patriotic unity. I make no plea for leniency toward those who are criminal or vicious, are open enemies of society and are not prepared to accept the true standards of our citizenship. By tolerance I do not mean indifference to evil. I mean respect for different kinds of good.

"Whether one traces his Americanism back three centuries to the Mayflower, or three years to the steerage, is not half so important as whether his Americanism of today is real and genuine. No matter by what various crafts we came here, we are all now in the same boat.

"You men constituted the crew of our Ship of State during her passage through the roughest waters. You made up the watch and held the danger posts when the storm was the fiercest. You brought her safely and triumphantly into port. Out of that experience you have learned the lessons of discipline, tolerance, respect for authority, and regard for the basic manhood of your neighbor. You bore aloft a standard of patriotic conduct and civic integrity, to which all could repair. Such a standard, with a like common appeal, must be upheld just as firmly and unitedly now in time of peace. Among citizens honestly devoted to the maintenance of that standard there need be small even about differences of individual opinion in other regards. Granting the essentials of loyalty to our country and to our fundamental institutions, we may not overlook, but we may encourage differences of opinions as to other things. The differences of this kind will certainly be elements of strength rather than of weakness. They will give variety to our tastes and interests. They will broaden our vision, strengthen our understanding, encourage the true humanities, and enrich our whole mental conception of life.

"I recognize the full and complete necessity of 100 per cent Americanism, but 100 per cent Americanism may be made up of many various elements.

Must Submit Prejudices

"If we are to have the harmony and tranquility, that union of spirit, which is the foundation of real national peace and material progress, we must all realize that there are true Americans who do not happen to be born in our section of the country, who do not attend the place of religious worship, who are not of our racial stock, or who are not prepared in our language. If we are to create on this continent a free republic and an enlightened civilization that will be capable of reflecting the true greatness and glory of mankind, it will be necessary to regard these differences as accidental and unessential.

"We shall have to look beyond the outward manifestations of race and creed. Divine Providence has not bestowed upon any race a monopoly of patriotism and character.

"The same principal that is necessary to apply to the attitude of mind among our own people, it is also necessary to apply to the attitude of mind among the peoples of the world. During the war we were required not only to put a strong emphasis on everything that appealed to our national pride but an equally strong emphasis on that which tended to disparage other peoples. There was an intensive cultivation of animosities and hatreds and enmities, together with a blind appeal to force, that took possession of substantially all the peoples of the earth. Of course these ministered to the war spirit. They supplied the incentive for destruction, the motive for conquest. But in time of peace these sentiments are not helps but hindrances; they are not constructive.

Superiority Theory Danger

"The generally expressed desire of "America first" cannot be criticised. It is a perfectly correct aspiration for our people to cherish. But the problem which we have to solve is how to make America first. It cannot be done by the cultivation of national bigotry, arrogance, or selfishness.

"Hatreds, jealousies and suspicions will not be productive of any benefits in this direction. Here again we must apply the rule of tolerance. Because there are other peoples whose ways are not our ways, and whose thoughts are not our thoughts, we are not warranted in drawing the conclusion that they are adding nothing to the sum of civilization.

"We can make little contribution to the welfare of humanity on the theory that we are a superior people and all others are an inferior people.

All Haven't Same Chance

"We do not need to be too loud in the assertion of our own righteousness. It is true that we live under most favorable circumstances. But before we come to the final and irrevocable decision that we are better than everybody else we need to consider what we might do if we had their provocations and their difficulties. We are not likely to improve our own condition or help humanity very much until we come to the sympathetic understanding that human nature is about the same everywhere, that it is rather evenly distributed over the surface of the earth, and that we are all united in a common brotherhood. We can only make America first in the true sense which that means by cultivating a spirit of friendship and good will, by the exercise of the virtues of patience and forbearance, by being plenteous in mercy, by aiding in progress at home and helpfulness abroad standing as an example of real service to humanity."

CATHOLICS PASS RACE RELATIONS RESOLUTION

"Guard Against Temptations Of Forbidding Racial Strife," Clause Reads

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 7.— The 69th convention of the Catholic Central Verein passed this following resolution at its meeting, held here, recently:

The spirit of the Constitution of our country makes for that true tolerance among our citizens which Christian justice and charity enjoin on all men. Human pride, augmented by other passions, leads to a disregard for the rights of others and the obligations of brotherly love. Differences of race, color, language, wealth and social standing are stressed, and engender bitterness, distrust, social unrest and even enmity and hideous crimes.

Since the citizenry of our country is made up of all sorts of variety of races and nations, it especially behooves us to guard against the temptation of forbidding racial strife, while we should do what lies in our power to promote peace and good will among all men, always ready to actively assist in, the solution of our racial problems.

Mindful of the fact that one of the first and foremost saints of the New World, St. Peter Claver, devoted his life to the Negroes, and that even ahead of such glorious martyrs as Isaac Jogues, an early America, was beatified by the Church the Blessed Martin de Porres, let us in a special manner devote our attention to relieving the condition of the members of the Negro race, subjected to so many injustices, not merely denied rights guaranteed them by the Constitution, but made to suffer slights and indignities which deeply offend them, and, too, are our neighbors, both under the law of Christ and that of our country.

We therefore wish to impress on our members the obligation to labor for amicable race relations and to grant their assistance to all efforts to bring them about."

PEONAGE HID IN CAROLINA BACKWOODS

Escaped Negro Youth Tells Of Horrors Of Being In South Carolina Camp For Three Years.

FATHER ASKS LAW'S AID

Will Appeal To Federal Department Of Justice. Act A Violation Of The Constitution

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 7.—One of the most startling cases of peonage ever disclosed, in this country has been uncovered in this state.

An enslaved youth, 16 years of age, through strategem, after many trials and failures—which were always followed by brutal punishment—finally succeeded in making known to the outside world the miserable plight of himself and other Negroes held in veritable bondage on a farm in the back woods of South Carolina near Camden.

The disclosure came when Norman Bolden, who had been missing from his home in Piedmont since 1923, managed to get a letter to his father, H. Bolden, and the latter came and with the assistance of officers freed his son.

Wants Prosecution

Considerable feeling has been aroused by the father's story of his boy's mistreatment. He has announced his intention to prosecute the case, but still under fear of the dreadful outlawry that exists in the state, has expressed fear to proceed without assurance of ample protection in the courts. He has been requested to take the case to the Attorney General of the United States and to ask the aid of the government.

Tells of Horrors

Young Norman related his experiences during his two years of captivity. He went through a horrible life. He told how he was led into the trap through a job. How thereafter he was hired to fill a "profitable job in a certain town, which he started out for, but never reached. Instead he was carried to the camp of John A. Carson, a Dixie Highway employee, against his will. He soon found that he was under the surveillance of guards, who were supported by spies among the camp prisoners. All the laborers of the camp were colored. They were forced to live in filthy quarters, food was allowed only to them, and they seldom received any pay. Often laborers would attempt to escape, but they never succeeded. When caught they were stripped, fastened over a barrel or a log and flogged. A trial would occasionally be held in which two of the overseers represented the entire court.

Boys and Women Held

Several boys around fifteen to twenty years of age, and women are being held at the camp according to Bolden. He gave the names of several who he remembered: Bill Albert, S. C.; Sam Armstrong, York, S. C.; Joe Mac, Alabama; Jerry Griffin, Willie Jones; Miss's Matt, Annie and Emma Peden.

Outwits Guards

Young Bolden managed to make his escape by having a colored woman to smuggle him a piece of paper into the camp, on which he wrote a message as best he could and addressed it to his father. Getting many weeks until he got an opportunity to be working near a mail box, he slipped the letter therein. The overseers believed that the youth could not write, so Bolden's father received his son's letter and immediately secured officers and rushed to his aid. With him went Deputy Sheriff J. T. Hartsell and Magistrate Howard of Greenville County. The representatives of the law were warned to be meek and diplomatic in their dealings with Carson, that he had a bad reputation, and that his camp was considered an outlaw camp. The men, after some difficulty finally succeeded in securing Bolden's freedom.

In a statement, Bolden's father declared:

"I appeal for and beseech the aid of the Department of Justice in securing the release of my son and said Carson, the releasing of such prisoners held against their will, the elimination of practices such as mentioned, and especially those which violate the Constitution of the United States and reek unjust and inhumane torture, and suffering to those innocent people who are now confined in a camp where life of humans or beasts is of little or no value."

Vashon-McGee Wedding

All Saints Episcopal Church, Garrison and Locust, provided a graceful setting for the marriage on Wednesday evening of Miss Majorie Cheuveau Vashon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Vashon of 3309 Arsenal street and Atty. Leroy McGhee of Cleveland, Ohio. Rev. Fr. Clark officiated in the presence of two hundred or more guests.

The church was void of decorations save the altar, where tall waxen tapers flickered in the glowing autumn twilight with, a bouquet of beautiful flowers on either side. An informal reception was held in the Sunday School room.

The bride wore a pretty georgette gown trimmed in old lace and ruffles. Her tulle veil, four yards long, was held to her head with orange blossoms and pearls. She entered on the arm of her father and carried a shower boquet of white rosed and valle lillies. Her sister, Miss Dorothy Vashon was maid of honor and Mrs. Lionel F. Reed, of Indianapolis was matron of honor.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Frederick D. Gardner, who acted as best man; Mr. William Alexander as groomsman. Beautiful presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. McGhee departed the same evening for Cleveland, Ohio, where they will reside. Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. M. M. McGhee, of Atlanta, Ga., the grooms mother.

Mrs. McGhee is of an old St. Louis family, and is the niece of the late John Boyer Vashon, formerly principal of the Delaney School of St. Louis. Her grandfather, George B. Vashon, was the first colored graduate of Oberlin University, completing his course there in 1844. She is also connected with the historic Paul family of Boston, Massachusetts.

Attorney McGhee served for a number of years as secretary, and later as assistant to the Secretary-Treasurer of Howard University, Dr. Emmett J. Scott. He also is National Secretary of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, the largest college fraternity composed of colored students. He is now practicing law in Cleveland, Ohio, and is also managing Editor of the Cleveland Call.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother and grand-mother, America Allen, who departed this life October 11, 1921.

Four long years have passed away,
Four long years since that fatal day
When the one we loved and dearly prized,
Lay cold in death before our eyes.
God in his wisdom hath recalled
The boon his love has given
And the body moulders here,
The soul is safe in heaven."

I MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling daughter, Ruth B. Ransome, who departed this life four years ago, October 9, 1921.

One by one earth's ties are broken,
As we see our love decay
And the hopes so fondly cherished
Brighten up to pass away.

One by one our hopes grow brighter
As we near the shining shore,
For we know across the river,
Waits the loved one gone before.
Sadly missed by father, mother, brothers, aunts and those who loved her.—Adv.

League Of Women Voters

The League of Women Voters is making a drive for new members. In furtherance of its campaign, the following letter is being sent to members and friends of the league:

The Letter

"The St. Louis League of Women Voters has launched its Annual Membership Campaign.

The League wants and needs the backing of public-spirited men and women in our city. Nothing evidences this support more surely than a membership in our League.

"A new incentive for becoming a member has been injected in the campaign this year. This incentive is the offer of two scholarships to be given by the League to the two individuals securing the highest number of memberships over two hundred.

The Colored Division of the League is very desirous of securing one of these scholarships for some worthy girl. Believing you to be interested in anything that pertains to the education of our youth, we are earnestly asking that you become a member of the League this year, either through renewal or as a new member.

"The new membership fee is $2.00. Should you desire to mail your membership at once, you may send it directly to Mrs. W. H. Huffman, 1625 Arlington, and receipt for the same will be acknowledged.

Very sincerely yours,
BEATRICE M. GRAY,
(Mrs. E. C. Grady), Chairman
MAMIE B. HUFFMAN,
(Mrs. W. H. Huffman), Chairman,
Membership Committee.

"THAIS" PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE AT ODEON

"Thais," a four-act play by Paul Wilstach, founded on Anatole France's novel dealing with life in early Alexandria and the strife of religion and superstition during the times, was presented at the Odeon, Friday, by a well rounded group of amateur players assisted by a professional actor, Mr. Clarence E. Muse.

Mr. Muse revealed himself as a past master in the art of make up. He did a fine piece of acting. His appearance on the stage was nearly always a signal for applause. Mrs. Wm. C. Bridges showed considerable mastery of the part of Thais. Dr. Lyle Suters as Cephenas was the center of humor in the play. Mr. Thomas Jefferson as Nicias, Dr. Steven D. Miller as Athemes played their parts well.

The lack of action in the play threw much responsibility of the suspense in the plot as well as the acting to hold the interest of the audience.

"THAIS" PRODUCER THANKS PARTICIPANTS

Clarence E. Muse, producer of "Thais," wishes to thank the many participants for their support in making the presentation to the Day Nursery a success. Mr. Muse says, "I shall always be glad to work with them."

MR. ERNEST KROEGER

Mr. Ernest Kroeger of the Kroeger School of Music, St. Louis, one of the artists to appear in the series of concerts to be given by the St. Louis Music Association. Subscribe early for your season ticket and help to put music over big in St. Louis. The other artists are R. Nathaniel Dett, Clarence Cameron White and Alcand e Parks.

A big chorus, comprised of members from the various church choirs in the city, Prof. Jackson's male white choir of East St. Louis, and a chorus from Alton, Ill., under the direction of Mr. Nathaniel Dett, two of his best numbers, the "Chariot Judgment" and "Listen to the Lambs." You cannot afford to miss hearing the chorus. Then, too, Mr. Dett will play a number of his own compositions. This is included in the season ticket. A single admission ticket to this alone should be two dollars, instead you are getting two tickets to four concerts for five dollars. Can you afford to miss the opportunity? Adv.

Besides satisfying your own musical talent you are helping to put music on a financial basis; you will help to do away with the necessity of last minute home-to-home ticket selling. The Association's recitals will be so scheduled and guaranteed in advance that other organizations can feel safe in arranging dates and be assured of no conflict in dates or finances. Therefore a better feeling of cooperation will be felt among the promoting recitals.

SUSIE SUTTON'S "BON TON REVUE" IS A CLASSY SHOW AT BOOKER WASHINGTON

Miss Susie Sutton, the artistic and talented character delineator, supported by a large company of well-trained performers, is giving the patrons of the Booker Washington Theatre a big entertainment this week, entitled: "Bon Ton Revue." The show is a harmonious combination of clean comedy, artistic dancing and good singing. The vocal talent is well introduced in the introductory chorus which presents about eighteen of the company singing and dancing "Rain." The "Follow Me" dancing girls and boys at once register a hit with the audience.

Billy Gunn and Harold Brown, the comedians, with Coleman Titus straight man, have a humorous sketch that has to do with a telephone booth and beer customers. Then follows a stream of specialties and novelties that delight the patrons.

Mr. Titus, supported by eight girls, sing and dance "Can't Stop Babying You." Henry Davis' excellent tenor is heard in "If You Hadn't Gone Away." Blake Morris scores with an acrobatic contortion buck dance. Miss Sutton gives an with a dialect song, "Where The Maccaroni Grows." She also presents "The Bridge of Sighs" dramatically in song and recitation, closing with the girls in "It Had To Be You."

A comedy sketch "Slow and Easy" is based on flirtation and keeps the audience laughing. The characters are taken by the comedians, the straight man, Miss Sutton, Mary Winn, Eunice Washington and Ethel Pope. Billy Gunn and Miss Washington have a domestic squabble and sing: "There's Going To Be Some Changes Made." Maxine Lopez is a clever female contortionist, especially in the manipulation of rings which she passes over her body during various contortions. A burlesque court room: with Gunn as Judge; Titus, Brown and Miss Washington as defendants, is full of hilarious fun. The "Novelty Four Quartette" close the medley with an unusual display of harmony. They are: James Davis, first tenor; Henry Davis, 2nd tenor, Paul Johnson, baritone; Van Jackson, basso. The final assemblage is a novel and original song and dance arrangement to the tune of "Scene Discreet."

"HITS AND BITS OF 1925" AT B. W. NEXT WEEK

"Buzzin" Harris' "Hits and Bits of 1925", a musical comedy show with a big reputation, will open a week's engagement at the Booker Washington Theatre next Monday. Mr. Harris always plays a good show and can be depended upon to live up to his standard next week. Monday will be "Pay Day," and Friday, Juvenile "Charleston" contest night.

THE STAR

Virginia Valli and Eugene O'Brien are the stars in "Seige," at the Star Theatre this Saturday. The battle centered between the young wife and her husband's relatives, who are bent on ruling her home and her very existence; this epic struggle for the right to life and liberty, forms a tremendous drama, gripping in the extreme, with a climax that is thrilling.

Conrad Nagle and Pauline Starke are principals in "Sun Up" on Sunday. It's the story of a mountain mother who vows vengeance on the descendants of the man who killed her people and who is made to see love, but her resolution is by her son, a World War veteran.

Billy Sullivan will be seen in "The Fear Fighter" on Monday. Maurice Flynn in "High and Handsome" and Roy Stewart in "Untamed," on Tuesday, and Tom Tyler in "Let's Go Gallagher," on Wednesday.

The attraction on Thursday and Friday will be "Woman's Faith," featuring Alma Rubens and Percy Marmont. It is the story of a man and woman who have been hurled from their exalted place in society by the treachery of those near and dear to them. In case of the man it was an embittering father, a faithless fiance and a disloyal friend who shattered his faith in the loyalty of humanity. It is an impressive screen play full of drama pathos with just enough touch of comedy here and there to relieve its tense situations.

THE JESTAMERE

This Saturday will be the last chance to see "The Lost World" at the Jestamere Theatre. It is one of the greatest dramas of adventure and romance ever screened.

The attraction for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will be "Proud Flesh." It tells of the earthquake and fire that wiped out the old San Francisco and of the fresh courage that built up the new city. It is a story of the clash between the forceful democratic energy of the new generation, and of the old, aristocratic pride. A gogetting, young Irish American meets a girl of American birth, but who has been reared on the continent, disdain the crude mannerisms of the Yankee class. This woman of refinement and breeding harkens to the call of the cavemans, but finds, in time, it is not the influence of environment. Eleanor Boardman plays the part of Fernanda, the high-spirited girl. The caveman, Patrick O'Mail, is played by Pat O'Malley. Harrison Ford plays a young Spanish noble, Don Jaime.

"Capital Punishment" will be shown on Wednesday. The attraction on Thursday and Friday will be "The Prairie Wife." It tells an interesting story of the struggles and hardships of a cultured eastern girl who marries a young engineer and goes to live with him on his prairie homestead. Dorothy Devore and Herbert Rawlinson play the leading roles.

THE OLYMPIA

Primitive country and savage men, huge obstacles and high courage, big situations where brawn battles against nature's forces, where human brains conquer almost insurmountable barriers—that is the theme of the pulse quickening story. The cast includes Seena Owen, Cyril Chadwick, Francis McDonald and Diana Miller.

"Grounds For Divorce" will be shown on Tuesday, and "Salome of the Tenements" on Wednesday.

The attraction for next Thursday and Friday will be "The Roughneck." George O'Brien and Billie Love are headline stars. It describes an extraordinary story of thrilling battles in the prize ring of South Sea Islands and beachcombers, of the riff-raff and interesting derelicts of civilization gathered with more than a full share of romance and adventure in San Francisco and Tahiti.

THE CASINO

"The Overland Limited" will be featured at the Casino Theatre this Saturday. It is a picture of thrills. The scenes of the train running wild with the maniac at the throttle are enough to make the most blase movie goer hold his breath, and the climax when the engine crashes through the bridge will hold anyone spellbound.

Fred Tompson and his horse "Silver King" will be shown in "Ridin' the Wind" on Sunday. As is customary when these two favorites get together, there is plenty of action, side-splitting comedy, and a lot of suspense. Fred and Silver pull some entirely new stuff in this production such as riding right out the open door of a baggage car on a rapidly moving train.

Other big features for the week will be Wm. Desmond and Helen Holmes in "Blood and Steel," on Tuesday; Bebe Daniels in "The Manicure Girl" on Wednesday; "Beggar On Horseback" on Thursday; and Lila Lee and Gareth Hughes in "The Midnight Girl," also Yakima Canutt in a western, next Friday.

THE LINCOLN

"The Iron Horse" will be presented at the Lincoln Theatre this Saturday and Sunday. Deeds of daring and hair breadth escapes—innumerable trials, sufferings, and hardships of the early pioneers during the building of the railway provides the basis for the thrilling situations to be found in this William Fox production which deals with the construction and completion of the first trans-continental railroad. The cast of thirty principals including George O'Brien, Madge Bellamy and Gladys Hulette is augmented by 5,000 extras, including a regiment of U. S. troops, three tribes of Indians, 1,000 Chinese and large herds of buffalo and Texas steers.

Other features for the week will include: "Lost, a Wife," on Monday; "The Midnight Girl," on Tuesday; "The Shock Punch" and "Lady Robinhood" on Wednesday; "The White Monkey" on Thursday, and "The Law and the Outlaw" next Friday.

THE COMET

Richard Barthlemess will be featured in "Shore Leave" at the Comet Theatre this Saturday. It portrays the romance of a harem-scarem young sailor and a little dressmaker of a small New England seacoast town. He moves on with the battle fleet, and her quest for him provides the story of "Shore Leave."

Jack Holt heads the cast in "Wild Horse Mesa," the Sunday special. It is a story of the grand west, of wild horse hunting and capturing, of horse thieves, Indians, perilous trails, drama and romance.

"Trail Dust" will be the feature on Monday; "Paths to Paradise" on Tuesday and "Wings of Youth" on Wednesday.

"In the Name of Love" will be presented next Thursday and Friday. Richard Cortez is the leading star. The plot centers around Cortez, who returns to his native France after several years in America in the hope of finding and marrying Greta Nissen, who has been his boyhood sweetheart. He has no trouble finding her but considerable difficulty in getting her to marry him. Many exciting and suspenseful things happen before he wins out, and these form the largest and most thrilling part of the picture.

THE RETINA

The Universal Ranch Riders will be seen in "The Outlaw's Daughter" at the Retina Theatre this Saturday.

A double attraction is offered for Sunday. Tom Mix will be featured in "Twisted Trails," an exciting story of the cattle country, filled with adventure, mystery and romance. Buster Keaton heads a strong cast in "Seven Chances," a comedy that's hilarious from start to finish.

Features for the week include: Peter, the dog, in "The Silent Accuser," on Monday; Bobby Vernon in "The Family Secret," and Hoot Gibson in a western drama, on Tuesday; "The Greatest Love of All" and "Fred Thomson in a western, on Wednesday; "Loraine of the Lions" on Thursday, and Douglas Fairbanks in "Don Q" next Friday.

THE CRITERION

"Charley's Aunt," one of the stage's greatest comedies, now a motion picture featuring Sid Chaplin, will be the Criterion Theatre special this Saturday.

"The Iron Horse" will be presented on Sunday and Monday. It is the story of the wires and rails which first linked the west with the east. Deeds of daring and hairbreadth escapes—innumerable trails, sufferings and hardships of the early pioneers during the building of the railroad, provide the basis for the thrilling situations in this massive drama, which deals with the construction and completion of the first transcontinental railroad. George O'Brien and Madge Bellamy are leading performers.

"Gerald Cranston's Lady," the story of a purchased woman, featuring James Kirkwood and Alma Rubens, will be shown on Tuesday. Owen Moore and Constance Bennett are the stars in "Married?" on Wednesday. "The Fool" will be presented on Thursday and "The Man Without a Conscience," next Friday.

THE VENUS

Lillian Gish will be featured in "Romola" at the Venus Theatre this Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It tells a thrilling, virile story, and has the necessary essentials—love interest, human interest, adventure. Lillian Gish as Romola contributes, as usual, a masterful bit of acting and her innate purity of feature and expression qualifies her superbly in the role of the innocent and unworldly victim of an unscrupulous seeker for political power, Dorothy Gish as Tessa has a larger and more sympathetic role. But one almost forgets both sisters in the engrossing and dramatic sweep of the story as it unfolds to its magnificent climax.

Zane Grey's "The Light of Western Stars," will be shown on Wednesday. It is a story of adventure when the west was young and romance galloped over the trails. Jack Holt is leading the cast.

"The Street of Forgotten Men" will be featured on Thursday and Friday. Percy Marmont, Neil Hamilton and Mary Brian are featured. It centers around the underworld of the city and tells an interesting story of a double personality assumed by him because of a young girl who has been entrusted to his care.

THE ROOSEVELT

"Night Life of New York" will be the picture feature at the Roosevelt this Sunday. It throws the spotlight on the jazziest spots in New York. The stage will have Airship Webbs Bobbed Haired Brown Skin Co., of ten performers and a Classy band, in a new show.

"The White Desert," with Claire Windsor, Pat O'Malley and Robert Frazer, which tells the story of a fight to tunnel snow swept mountains will be the attraction on Monday and Tuesday.

Mary Philbin in "The Gayety Girl" will be the Wednesday picture feature. There will also be Amatuer Vodvil. Thursday, the dog, is the star in "Black Lightning," and Wm. Desmond will be seen in "Measure of a Man," Thursday. House Peters in "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," will be the special next Friday. Colored amateur vaudeville will also be presented.

Fashion and human nature are two things that snap their fingers at the lawmakers.

Many Cities Await Heralded Southern Soprano

Associated Negro Press

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 7—Music lovers here and in many Southern and Mid-Atlantic cities are looking forward to the appearance of Mrs. Nell Hunter, popular lyric soprano of Durham, North Carolina, who has completed her plans for a tour which will take her as far South as Tuskegee, as far West as Nashville, and through the intervening cities to New York City. The trip will be made immediately after her appearance at the North Carolina State Fair, where she is to be presented as one of the features, an unusual distinction for a person of color.

Mrs. Hunter, who is a graduate of the Chicago Musical College, through the ability as a soloist has gained the plaudits of the musical critics, wherever she has appeared. According to the Durham Morning Herald, Mrs. Hunter "possesses a lyric soprano voice of remarkable charm and purity of tone." Another musical critic on The Raleigh Times declares she has a splendid voice, smooth, flexible, and clean in all of its ranges."

On the other hand, Mrs. Hunter has won the praises of other musicians and writers among whom are Harry T. Burleigh and Mrs. Alice Dunbar Nelson. Mr. Burleigh wrote Mrs. Hunter:

"The more I think about it the more certain I am that you will become one of our great artists. You have brains, voice, heart, intelligence, aptitude, temperament, ambition, application and magnificent physical equipment."

Mrs. Nelson, after hearing Mrs. Hunter declared, "To say that I enjoyed it is putting it extremely mildly. 'Enjoyed' is not the word. It was rather a deep sense of ultimate satisfaction that permeated my entire being when she sang."

THE MOTIVE

By Thos. Atkins

'Tis the motive, as they guess it,
Adjo reckonar to confess it—
Even the word and what it meant,
And carve the shade of well intent.

The true meaning still appears,
Thru the dim midst of distant years.
Unlock the riddle of the sages,
And tell the meaning of his pages.

SLEEPING

Why waste life's fleeting moments in sleeping?
Life is too short—too swift-winged are the hours,
To spend them in bed—while death comes creeping
To blight us as the winter blights the flow'rs.

Behold the wonders of our mar'lous age,
Think you that men asleep thought them to birth?
No! Men who laugh at slumber mould each age,
And hold the helm of onward rushing earth!

When I think not of mighty things, I sleep,
Away the bed while burns life's feeble glow!
For soon comes Death, the time arresting deep
Thru whose dark waters, sleeping I must go.

O Wisdom, if the watching stars look down,
And catch me nodding at my mighty post,
Let old Time wake me with his darkest frown,
And dock me for each idle moment lost!

ST. LOUIS STARS WILL PLAY AGAIN SAT. AND SUNDAY

Boys Will Play A Combination Of Major And Minor Leaguers Called Southwest Nash All-Stars

The St. Louis Stars will remain together another week in order that the fans may see them in final action, before they close the present season. Threatening weather kept the crowd down to a small number last Sunday when the boys performed against the Shell team, winning 16 to 6.

This Saturday and Sunday their opponents will be major and minor league players in the uniform of the Southwest Nash All Stars.

These big leaguers should be able to force Jimmie Taylor's speed team to extend itself and the games have enough pep to furnish some thrills. It will be the only baseball attraction in the city and an outpouring of baseball followers is expected out of respect for the game's two leading Boys made for the league pennant. Both games will start at 2:30 and be umpired by Billy Donaldson.

UMPIRE COOPER GETS $239.50 JUDGMENT AGAINST BALL LEAGUE

Andrew Rube Foster, president of the Negro National Baseball League may think that Henry Cooper, former league umpire, does poor judgment as a baseball diamond arbitor, but he will certainly not think little of his judgment in legal affairs.

Cooper, who felt the elbow of the ax with other colored brother umpires in the National League, was not so easily discarded as the rest. He filed a suit for payments, which he considered rightfully due him.

Wednesday, after the suit had been up in abeyance in the courts for several weeks, a judgment was returned awarding the plaintiff $239.50 for salary due him on a contract which was to run from May 1, 1921 to October 1 of the present year. The judgment was entered by default when Foster of representative of the defendant baseball team failed to appear.

FOOTBALL

Sumner Working Hard

By Willie Roden

A large number of boys reported to coach Beckett this week. They were sent through some snappy workouts. McDuff McGraw, a fellow who has shown much ability in the gridiron, was chosen captain. Many of the veterans were on hand. All the rookies worked with a seeming confidence that they all had a chance to make the regulars. They are fine looking, have a strong determination and are taking the training seriously.

The weight of the team is light.

CAUSES MORON'S ARREST

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Charging that she was embarrassed and insulted by the indecent acts of Edward Aron, white, while riding on a crowded subway train, Mrs. Hyrd Robinson of the Department of Welfare caused the offender's arrest. The woman alleged that Aron forced her into immoral contact with his person, while riding on the congested car. She followed him when he left the train and summoned a passing policeman to arrest him. He was arraigned for a hearing before Judge Edward Weil.

HILLDALE CLUB NEAR THE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

Kansas City Monarchs, Weakened By The Loss Of Their Ace "Bullet" Rogan, Lose Four Out Of Five Games To Hilldale In World Championship Baseball Series. Contests Stubbornly Fought.

Fighting desperately to overcome the handicap due to the loss of their ace pitcher and batter, Wilber "Bullet" Rogan, the Kansas City Monarchs have gone down to defeat in four out of five games with Hilldale, for the world championship.

Rogan stuck a needle in his knee while playing with his little boy the day before the series opened in Kansas City, in attempting to get the broken it off and an operation was necessary to remove the fragment. He has been out of the world series to date. Hilldale annexed the fourth of their needed five victories Thursday by winning 7 to 2. Cyrile was on the mound for the easterners and C. Bell and Dean worked for Kansas City.

The series opened in Philadelphia Thursday for three games. They will go to New York City for a game on Sunday. The schedule will be played out in exhibition games if Hilldale wins the pennant before the times is up.

HILLDALE WINS FIRST

KANSAS CITY, Mo., October 1—It required twelve innings to settle the issue in the opening game of the Negro world series between the Hilldale Club of Philadelphia and the Monarchs at Muehlebach field Friday, the visitors nosing out ahead, 7 to 2. A crowd of 3,000 witnessed the game.

The contest was a see-saw affair from the start and not until Philadelphia bits began to drop with regularity in the twelfth was there any indication as to which way the pendulum of victory would swing.

Rube" Currie, former Monarch hurler, traveled the full route for the Hilldale aggregation and did a mighty creditable job of it, yielding only eight safe blows. C. Bell, who was the starting hurler for the Monarchs, was jerked in the eleventh after he had issued a walk and been touched for a single.

The Monarchs were first to score in the fourth, when McNair, who had singled, stole second, took third on Moore's double up the right field embankment. Oddly enough, it was the same combination that later counted for the only other Monarch run, which came in the eleventh, tying the count again, only Moore's second blow in the game was good for a triple. Thomas, who had walked and advanced on G. Johnson's single in the seventh, scored on Warfield's sacrifice fly, giving the Hilldale club its first run. Singles by Briggs, Carr and Mackey and a walk to Steveky netted Philadelphia another run in the seventh. Stevens scoring while a series of timely hits by Briggs, Carr and Warfield, along with some clever base-running, gave Hilldale a trio of runs in the twelfth and a comfortable victory.

MONACHS WIN IN A RALLY

Oct. —Nelson Dean's great pitching and the break of luck in the eighth inning enabled the Monarchs to win the second game and even the Negro world's series with the Hilldale club of Philadelphia.

Dean pitched eight innings against the Eastern nags but showed signs of weakening in the ninth and Warfield was rushed to his rescue. Dean, however, hurled great ball until the ninth inning and was easily the outstanding star of the afternoon.

Monarchs Score First

Phil Cockrell, the visiting pitcher was jumped early, giving the champions a first inning run. The advantage slipped away in the second, however, a base on balls, two hits and two sacrifices giving the visitors two runs.

The next four innings saw Dean and Cockrell in a scoreless duel Sweatt opened the seventh with a single and scored on Duncan's sacrifice and Dean's two base hit down the first base line.

Short's fly ball. Mackey's throw-in with a double. Duncan was called out on strikes. Drake tripled to center; Allen hit to Judy Johnson who made a leap to stop the high bounder and threw to Mackey. Drake was tagged on the line and Mackey to Warfield got Allen trying to make second.

In Hilldale's ninth, Johnson tripled, Winters singled sending Johnson home. Stevens forced Winters at second. Briggs doubled to left putting Stevens on third. Warfield tripled to right scoring Stevens and Briggs and scored himself when Joseph let McNair's throw roll to the stands. Carr struck out and Moore threw out Mackey.

With their backs to the wall, Kansas City showed fight in their last time at the bat. Joseph opened up with a single. Hawkins beat out a hit to Judy Johnson, Sweatt singled to left, scoring Joseph. Mackey threw out Duncan. Foreman batted for Drake and fired to Stevens; as Allen fled to Briggs. Both teams left tonight for Philadelphia for Thursday's game.

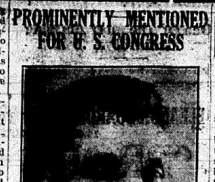
PROMINENTLY MENTIONED FOR U. S. CONGRESS



HENRI CHOUTEAU

With Harry B. Hawes, a candidate for the U. S. Senate, the Republicans are now more than ever determined to elect a good man as Representative in Congress from the Eleventh District. Therefore quite a number of aspirants will be in the field. Prominently mentioned as a suitable candidate is the name of Henri Chouteau a member of the present State Legislature.

Mr. Chouteau is active in local and national politics and is looked upon with favor by many of the party leader who have urged him to make the race. And while it is true that Mr. Chouteau has not formerly announced his intentions in the matter yet, it is generally known among his friends that he has political ambition, and could be prevailed upon to make the race.

He is a direct descendant of the Chouteau family of French stock, who were among the founders of St. Louis. As a member of the Fifty-third General Assembly of the Missouri Legislature, he was a leader of the St. Louis delegates and was very much interested in Lincoln University.

"Poor White Trash" Must Work In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, Oct. 7— In order to convert "poor white trash" and "won't works" into energectic citizens of South Africa, the government is drafting a bill for the next session of Parliament which gives power to place this type of person in special settlements.

Every tenth European in the Union of South Africa is classed as a "poor white," and the government hopes to decrease the percentage. The bill is part of a general campaign by the government against unemployment and poverty.

Georgians Carry Prejudice Into Florida

Associated Negro Press

SEBRING, Fla., Oct. 7.—In the past few years Florida has gained a bad name among other states. Some of the most deplorable crop failures and peonages have occurred in this state. The consensus of opinion is that these things are caused by the continued influx of Georgians who bring their un practices into play in this state. The latest happening is the driving of Negro painters from their posts by Georgia painters. One whom every one familiar with the situation believes to be the Georgia migrants. Many of the poorest class of whites are seen coming into the state every day looking for work. Of course, they have no scrup s about driving a Negro off his job.

Negro painters who have been employed to work in Sebring have been scared off the job by a warning that has been posted in conspicuous places. Last week the contractor in charge of the remodeling of the new school building, found a sign which read:

"All Negro painters are warned to stay off all white men's painting in Sebring. Do this and save trouble. This means you. We don't want to have to say this twice."

Every effort was made to employ white painters but the scheme of contractor stated, before Negroes were hired. The school will be completed in less than a month and the contractor was anxious that operations should not be delayed. The matter has been taken to county authorities who started an investigation, but no clues were found. This is the first time Negroes have been threatened about their jobs since the great boom began.

"The raid was illegal," said Fanin. "The stuff was not in plain view. It was concealed by the steins."

Mrs. Williams said she tied the child to the bedpost to keep her from running away and then left her rooming house for a short time. When she returned the child was dead, she declared. The child was Nora Frances Williams. She was not related to Mrs. Williams.

RACE PREJUDICE!

"I am convinced myself that there is no more evil in this present world than race prejudice; none at all!

"I write deliberately—it is the worst single thing in life now. It justifies and holds together more baseness, cruelty and abomination than any other sort of error in the world." —H. G. Wells.

IN JAIL—WHY?

"A man's home is his castle; the rain may enter but the King may not," is the fundamental principle upon which the English law is founded.

Dr. O. H. Sweet, his wife and nine of his friends are in jail in Detroit for upholding this same principle—defending his home. Why? What have they done? The answer is: They dared defend the home of the Doctor from an invading mob. The mob was determined to oust him dead or alive, from his home. Fortunately, the mob was disappointed. Instead of the occupants fleeing and deserting their home like scared sheep, notwithstanding the mob had hurled bricks thru their windows and doors, they used other means of defense, fighting fire with fire, the mobs' attack was met with bullets which resulted in two members of the mob being mortally wounded.

Following this occurrance, Mayor Smith said that the Ku Klux Klan was responsible for the trouble. The Klan is a lawless organization and the Doctor's home should have been protected from its lawless attack. However, the real law was called in. Dr. Sweet, his wife and nine steadfast friends were incarcerated without bond. And for what?

Change the scene for a moment, in one's mind. Think of what would have happened had the mob been composed of Negroes and the defenders of their homes had been white. There would be quite a different story to tell. Therefore, the question arises: Has the colored man as much right under the Constitution, to protect his home as any other citizen? The Detroit case is one of purely self-defense of one's self and home.

Dr. Sweet and his associates did what any other group of red blooded Americans would have done under the circumstances. The City of Detroit and the State of Michigan owes them the protection of the strong arm of the law. To prosecute and persecute them is only adding injury to injury, making a mockery of the fundamental law of the land. It will be turning a deaf ear to the common appeal for Justice and Equity before the law. Can the great State of Michigan afford to permit such a travesty upon its reputation for equitable administration of the law and justice to every citizen in its confines? We Hope NOT.

BETRAYED FOR TWENTY-FIVE PIECES OF SILVER

It was published in this paper last week, an account of the Rev. (?) Kuykendall, pastor of the C. M. E. Church, in Vandalia, Mo., accepting $25.00 from members of the Ku Klux Klan, who made a visit to his church on the Sunday night previous.

Upon being informed of this happening, we were loath to believe that such a thing was possible in this enlightened age among the colored ministers, until the report was confirmed by the preacher himself.

To betray others is as old as the hills. Judas betrayed our Lord for 30 pieces of silver. 25 pieces of silver were enough for Kuykendall. So we find Judases in our midst today, going around in the garb of a minister of Christ, when in reality they are no more nor less than agents of the devil. This man Kuykendall should be immediately unfrocked. He praises the Ku Klux Klan the arch enemy of the colored people. Their hands are stained with the blood of the innocent and their souls are dwarfed with race prejudice. Yet, Kuykendall sees no evil in the Klan. Such a man is too ignorant to be a leader or he is too dishonest to be trusted with "the riches of His grace."

The $25.00 given by the Klan was a bribe and he accepted it under the cloak of righteousness. Surely the angels turned their faces and wept at such a bold, brazen hypocritical act inside the sacred walls of a church.

A duty has fallen upon the officers of this particular church. If they are men, they will not shirk that duty. That duty is to request the bishop to remove the man at once.

The church, the great Colored Methodist Episcopal church should unfrock this unholy man and let him go, as Ephraim of old, and join his idols.

Y. M. C. A. EVENING SCHOOL

On Monday evening, October 12, the Y. M. C. A. Evening School will open. The opportunity will be given men and women to prepare themselves along special lines best suited for their future endeavor.

The world today is calling for men and women who are prepared. Negro business in St. Louis is growing at a rapid pace. Those who are employing young men and young women are experiencing no easy task to find those who are able to "deliver the goods." The call for efficient help is loud and long but so few are able to fill the places. And while it is true, that the course is especially appealing to the young, yet there is plenty food in it for the grown-ups and those who are already engaged in every line of business endeavor.

Some wedding rings don't last much longer than the ring of the wedding bells.

The Newspaper's Side of It

The newspaper actually "reaches" its readers and the buying public. It is handed from busy father to busy mother. The young men and young women scan it. The children peruse its entertaining features. The newspaper is given credence because it is strictly a home product. It is, or should be, reliable. It is part of the community where it is established. It is "one of the family." If a man will "walk a mile for a camel" or a match, he will, so far as inclination goes, walk five for his favorite newspaper.

What, then, has the newspaper to oppose? Really nothing. Who, then are the newspaper's competitors? Strictly speaking, nobody. The newspaper's field is wide, with the complexities of its possibilities unreached. No form of advertising ever has and never will, measure up in value to that of the home newspaper. So we might well conclude by inventing this one: a man's mail will reach his wastebasket when nothing else will.

Squibitorials

Capitalism Breeds Itself. In New York a large fund set aside to fight capitalism doubled itself with capitalistic investments. This does not necessarily prove inconsistency on the part of the man who furnished the money, but it does go to show that the very system sought to be stamped is a living, growing, vital force.

When we can disassociate the term "capitalism" with fat magnates and gentlemen of leisure and apply its economic principles to humble investments and modest savings, it will claim greater respect from the common man. It will demand less defense from the purveyors of revolutionary propaganda.

Cooperation and Economy. If a man started out to manufacture a watch all by his own efforts and at his own expense, digging in the mines for the jewels and metal, melting sands for the glass, and fashioning the cogs and springs by his own hand-work, it has been estimated that the materials, labor and tools for the making of an ordinary twenty-dollar watch would amount to $2,000,000.

It therefore, alone and unaided, one could try to develop his community or his private business without the support and cooperation of his fellow citizens, he would foolishly waste a lifetime of effort at the job. Boil-down, civilization is cooperation in all good works.

More Musical Instruments. An inventor claims to have perfected a piano the tones of which, by means of resistors, can be sustained like those of the organ. It is surprising that there are so few different kinds of musical instruments in view of the possible combinations.

There are basic principles from which all musical instruments are built, namely: the stringed instrument, like the violin and piano; the wind instrument, like the horn and flute, including the reed, of the clarinet and saxaphone, and the instruments of percussion like the drum and cymbal. There are comparatively few developments or combinations. Who can deny that we have just started upon the era of musical instrument-making?

HOLD 23 MEMBERS OF MOB

Associated Negro Press

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 7—After the order of the county judge to the effect that members of a mob which tried to storm the county jail and lynch a Negro be indicted, twenty-three members of the mob were rounded up over the week-end and placed in prison.

Advance Sale Expected To Be Large. Patrons Advised To Reserve Their Seats Early

The advance sale of tickets for the Urban League play, "KISMET", to be given at the Odeon Theatre, Friday, November 6, has already begun. Tickets are on sale at Harris' Drug Store, Brown's Drug Store, Cox's Pharmacy, Poro College and the Urban League Office. A strong ticket committee, under the joint chairmanship of Mrs. Chas. Herriot and Mr. E. L. Snyder, will conduct a drive for the advance sale of tickets in an effort to sell out the house within the next two weeks. Through the kindness of Mrs. N. A. McMillan, a member of the Urban League Board of Directors and E. F. E. Williams, Manager of the Pioneer Engineering & Finance Co., beautiful silver loving cups will be presented to the workers selling the largest amount of tickets.

Those planning to attend are urged to purchase tickets early as the play will be given one night only.

A strong organization with committee for the sale of tickets, the publishing of a 32 page souvenir program, properties, costumes, music, dancing, publicity and advertising has been perfected. The personnel of all committees will be published later.

The cast, which has been rehearsing for over four weeks, consists of 80 persons selected from the best talent all over the city and includes most of those who starred in former Urban League plays, as well as a host of newly discovered talent.

PURPOSES OF THE HAIR GROWERS' ASSOCIATION

We, the members of the executive board of the Hair Growers Association wish to state to the general public as far as possible the facts in the case which deals with the present Hairdressers Law.

The Hair Growers Association with headquarters at 3001 Lawton Blvd., phone Bomont 1958, was organized to protect the Hairdressers against the Hairdressers and Cosmeticians Law passed in the last state legislature and since our group is being unjustly discriminated against, by the members of the board on applying for application of registration to the board; and being told by members of the board that they are not qualified to be licensed when the law section three (3) states specifically that:—"Any person who engages for compensation in anyone, all or any combination of the following practices to wit:—arranging, dressing, cleansing etc., or similar work upon the hair of any person by any means or with hands or mechanical or electrical apparatus etc., or by the use of cosmetic preparations antiseptic and tonics, etc., in massaging, cleansing, stimulating, beautifying etc., or similar work, shall be construed as practising the occupation of a Hairdresser and Cosmetician and said Hairdresser and Cosmetician shall be required to fulfil all the requirements within the meaning of this act:—

Therefore since the executive board of The Hair Growers Association thought it wise to have open mass meetings to inform the general public of the danger of this law, and upon receipt of legal advice and knowing their steps were correct, their program outlined, they did not deem it necessary to allow anyone to speak at a recent mass meeting, who could not do so with authority.

There will be mass meetings held in the various churches from time to time—all ministers of the city have lined up with the Hair Growers Association in their effort to wipe out this unjust law.

SUIT IN REFUSAL TO SERVE BISHOP IN D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—Waiting three hours for breakfast, in the Union Station in this city, because they were refused service when they first applied for their breakfast, Bishop W. J. Walls and Mrs. L. H. Aelleyne, the wife of Bishop Aelleyne of the A. M. E. Zion Church, persisted in their right to be served and finally were served. They were enroute to New York and, like other passengers on the train in which they were riding, took advantage of the stop in Washington to get their breakfast.

On entering the dining room they were informed they could not be served in this room, but would be served in the segregated section. The Bishop and Mrs. Aelleyne resented this insult and sought out the manager of the dining department, who informed them they could not have equal service in the dining room. They called up Bishop W. D. W. Jones, who presides in Washington, and S. M. Dudley, the attorney of the A. M. E. Zion Church, who went to the station and met with them to the Superintendent of the Station and lodged a vigorous complaint against this practice of prejudice. The Superintendent finally issued an order for them to be served.

"The local officers of the N. A. A. C. P. were called into conference and it was decided to file a suit for damages against the Union Station Corporation. It is thought that the franchise under which the old Baltimore and Ohio Station operated, contained a clause prohibiting discrimination in their station. As the present Union Station is operated under the same franchise it is expected that this case will settle once for all the practice of discrimination in the Union Station dining department at Washington.

Bishop Walls was elected Bishop at the last general conference of the A. M. E. Zion Church. He was formerly the Editor of The Star of Zion at Charlotte, N. C. Bishop Aelleyne, whose wife was traveling to New York along with Bishop Walls, and Bishop E. D. W. Jones were elected Bishops at the same conference.

$294 RAISED TOWARD SWEET DEFENSE FUND

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 7—The Detroit branch of the N. A. A. C. P. has raised $294.97 in cash and a large sum in pledges, for the purpose of defending eleven colored persons held on first degree murder charges growing out of the killing of a white man in the defense of a colored citizen's (Dr. Sweet) home.

Two resolutions pertaining to the plans of the body in its defense campaign have been passed. The resolutions were:

1. That all organizations of any nature whatsoever contributing to the Sweet Fund shall have a representative named by the contributing body, who shall be a member of the finance board; said board to have charge of all disbursements and see that no money is spent for anything other than the purpose raised.

2. That the matter of defense attorneys be left entirely to the persons imprisoned and the present defense attorneys, and that there would be no interference by the association in this regard.

Labor's problem is to win strikes as easily as they can be called.

LIBERALISM AWAKENS IN THE SOUTH

New York World Correspondent Tells Of Democratic Way 3 Monstrous Conventions Were Greeted.

LAID ASIDE BARRIERS

Showed A Real Interest In Progress Of The Race. A Graunciation To Loyal Colored Americans.

In The New York World
By Lester A. Walton

Students of sociology and race relations regard it highly significant that during the dog days of August white newly acquired homes of responsible Negro citizens were being stoned by mobs in large Northern cities. Southern State and local officials, the daily press and general public were extending a most cordial and sincere welcome to delegates attending the annual conventions of the National Negro Business League, the Negro Elks and the Negro Knights of Pythias, meeting at Tulsa, Richmond and Louisville, respectively.

Considerable opposition cropped up among Northern delegates of the three organizations when suggestions were advanced last year that the 1925 sessions be held in the Land of Jim Crow. Opponents of the idea predicted serious racial clashes were inevitable if hundreds of Negroes unused to Southern customs were to assemble where race discrimination was religiously practiced by statutory provisions.

Showed Harmonious Spirit

These pessimistic forecasts did not materialize. The reaction was just to the contrary. Instead of driving the races further apart the conventions served to bring them closer together. The unheard of is happening. Two avowed enemies are exchanging compliments. Northern Negroes are profuse in their praise of the treatment accorded the neither in Tulsa, Richmond or Louisville and the white people of these communities are desirous to confess their ideas about the Negro have undergone a decided change. They have a higher estimate of the race as a whole.

Virginia A Revelation

The warm greeting [illegible] New block, the Chamber [illegible] rce, the newspapers and people of Virginia gave Dr. R. R. Moton and delegates to the National Negro Business League has been told. But one of the most unusual stories dealing with race relations since capitulation comes out of Richmond, one-time capital of the Confederacy, where the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World held its sessions from Aug. 23 to 29.

Some months ago while arranging for the convention, Grand Exalted Ruler J. Finley Wilson made a special trop to Richmond, conferred with city authorities and business men about the coming of a host of Negroes from different sections of the country and asked their cooperation, which was promised.

They kept their word. During the convention segregation was abolished. The signs in street cars indicating "Seats for Colored Passengers" and "Seats for White Passengers" were taken down. Negroes sat wherever they saw fit. Even restaurants where Negroes never had broken bread were thrown open to visitors, as were other places of public accomodation. For the first time in its history Richmond temporarily took on the habits and customs of a liberal Northern city.

The Elks and other Negro strangers were also on their good behavior. Nearly 5,000 delegates attended. Hundreds of sightseers came from distant and adjacent points. Yet, with the largest crowd of Negroes that ever assembled in Richmond, there was not one arrest during the week. The leading white people do not hesitate to say the convention was not only a record breaker numerically but that it was one of the most orderly.

Members of Monarch Lodge No. 45 of New York, are among the most enthusiastic to sing the praises of Richmond white people. At their club, No. 245 W. 137th street, they have on display a newspaper clipping of a group picture in which are Gov. E. Lee Trinkle, Mayor J. F. Bright and Grand Officers of the order.

Officials Show Respects

Gov. Trinkle made a hit with Negroes by personally making a welcome address to the Elks at the Rayo Theatre. In his response Henry Lincoln Johnson, who has since died, stated it was the first time in the history of the fraternity that a Chief Executive of a State had extended a welcome address. That in Boston, Chicago and elsewhere these officials had either sent substitutes or regrets.

In his welcome address Gov. Trinkle said he was glad he had lived long enough to witness such a large representative gathering of Negroes. He openly confessed he did not know there were so many high class Negroes in the country.

The Monarch Band from New York, seventy musicians, clad in bright new uniforms, was as much of a delight and pleasure to the white people as the colored. The Harlem musicians were very much in demand. On one occasion they played in front of the News-Leader Building and stopped traffic for hours. In a letter to the band a representative of the paper stated: "The Chief of police told me that he never knew of such a crowd to gather."

Not only did many New York Negroes exert a soothing influence in interracial matters, but it so inspired the white citizens that a fund was started to organize a municipal band. One business firm donated $10,000.

Hundreds of Negroes motored to Richmond, while many traveled by train. Pullman reservations were readily obtainable by all delegates desirous of such accomodations. Failure to get berths in sleeping cars was the principal objection to Negroes traveling South.

One of the Factors

The Improved Benevolent Protective Order of Elks of the World has made marvelous strides both in membership and finances under J. Finley Wilson of Washington, D. C., who was first elected Grand Exalted Ruler at Newark in 1922. He has been voted back into office by a large majority each succeeding year.

When he took charge there were 30,000 active members and 200 lodges. Now there are 110,000 members and 600 lodges. In 1922 there was $30,000 in the treasury and at present a little over $100,000. Up to his administration the lodges were principally in the North. Richmond was known as "the dead line." The hostile attitude of some white Elks against the organizing of the colored Elks and the reluctancy of high Negro officials to go into the South were largely responsible for this situation.

Then every Southern State was formed in—Virginia, Georgia, South Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Arkansas, Tennessee, Idaho, Wyoming, Arizona, Kansas and Central America. George E. Bates of Newark, is Grand Secretary. Other officers of the Grand Lodge are: Dr. F. H. George, Rockford, Grand Esteemed Leading Knight; Sam Jones, Washington, D. C., Grand Loyal Knight; Dr. Roland R. Johnson, Brooklyn, Grand Esteemed Lecturing Knight; James C. Carter, Richmond, Grand Treasurer; Joe Brown, New York, Grand Esquire; Sidney Thompkins, Cleveland, Grand Inner Guard; L. B. Grasty, West Virginia, Grand Tyler; Edward Pharrow, Atlanta, Grand Trustee; H. A. M. Johns, Lynchburg; Little Mount, Los Angeles, and E. C. Copeland, Winston Salem, Grand Auditors.

In New York there are three thriving lodges of the order—Manhattan, Monarch and Imperial lodges.

At the opening session of the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Pythias at Louisville, Mayor Huston Quin welcomed the delegates and responding members of the fraternity complimented him for not referring to "mammy" and the fact that he did not bring in the race question.

The Louisville Herald, in telling of the parade, said in part: "The Pythian parade, led by Gen. Robert R. Jackson, member of the Chicago City Council and Spanish War heroes, gave Louisville something to see and something to talk about. There were men and women covering over a city block in length. Hundreds of white people looked on and joined in encouraging applause. It was a pretentious parade." In line were 4,500 members of the uniformed rank.

S. W. Green of New Orleans, who has been Supreme Chancellor for more than two years, reported there are 294,200 members, 1,200 knights and 108,951 members of the Court of Calanthe. The order has total resources of $6,000,000.

Officers Chancellor, S. W. Green, New Orleans, Supreme Chancellor; Ernest G. Tidrington, Evansville Ind., Vice Chancellor; N. C. Nix, Charleston, S. C., Supreme Prelate; Dr. E. A. Williams, Cincinnati, Past Supreme Chancellor; Roscoe Simmons, Chicago, Supreme Lecturer; Dr. E. E. Underwood, Frankfort, Ky., Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal; Thomas G. Nutter, Charleston, W. HONOR NEGRO EDUCATOR IN SCHOOL NAME CHANGE

Cape Girardeau Board Makes Change After Many Years, From Lincoln to John S. Cobb

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Oct. 6.—(Special)—Honoring 38 years of unbroken service as an instructor in the Cape Girardeau schools, the Board of Education of this city has ordered the name of the Lincoln High School changed to that of the John S. Cobb school, in memory of the Negro educator whose death in 1919 ended his long services at the school.

Formal services to mark the change in name of the institution will be held at the school within a few weeks and a program to be made up of addresses by leading Negroes is planned. Robert S. Cobb, a son of the deceased educator, who is secretary of the State Negro Industrial Commission, has been asked to attend the exercises.

Decision to name the institution for the training of Negro children in honor of Cobb was reached following a resolution presented to the Board by Hon. L. L. Bowman, president, who had conferred with the son of the deceased. The board members felt that it is proper that such honor be accorded the late principal.

Overcame Obstacles

It was only through hard labor, persistent study and a determined effort that Cobb rose from the rank of slavery in which he was born to one of the best known educators in Missouri. He was born as a slave in Knox County, Tenn., March 6, 1849. His first teacher was the son of his master, but later he became the servant of a professor of Maryville college, a Presbyterian College located at Maryville, Tenn., and there he attended school and worked part of the time for six years. Later he came to Missouri in an ox wagon. He settled near Jackson, Missouri and was elected principal of the Jackson school for three years. He then went to Cape Girardeau where he taught for 38 years, keeping up his work until his death, Oct. 27, 1919.

He was an ardent student, conversant with the classics and his personal library was an excellent one.

WALDEN COLLEGE ENTERS ITS FIFTY-NINTH YEAR

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7.—Walden College held auspicious opening exercises here yesterday on the campus, when a large number of alumni and citizens were present. Among the members of the board of trustees of the institution who gave short addresses were Bishop I. B. Scott, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Attorney J. C. Napier and Dr. J. H. Boyd, Dr. H. H. Walker, president of the alumni association, spoke enthusiastically on the alumni plan of conducting the nation wide financial campaign among the alumni, and the teachers and students of the institution, pledged liberally in the interest of the campaign. Rev. J. C. Davis, Rev. W. E. Mitchell and Dr. G. W. Lemon represented the Tennessee Conference in pledging unprecedented support of the institution. The new members of the faculty were presented and Pres. T. R. Davis mentioned that the institution is entering upon its fifty-ninth year of work under the most promising and encouraging circumstances. Throughout the services, the students rendered college songs and yells.

DECLARES WHITE WOMAN WAS HIS MISTRESS

Associated Negro Press

ROCKINGHAM, N. C., Oct. 7—After Mrs. Bet Hatcher, white, had taken the witness chair and told the court that Charlie Myers, had invaded her cabin and assault her, Myers took the chair and explained to the court that he had often gone to the hut, while a trusty with a chaingang, and had illicit relations with the woman, with her consent. He admitted that on the day in question he had been with her, but with her permission, and stated that scars she had on her neck were probably made by her husband. His story made quite an impression on the court, but he was found guilty. It is understood a recommendation will be made that he be given a prison sentence rather than death.

THE PROGRESS OF THE NEGRO RACE
(Concluded)

As a speaker once said, "The Negro will not always grind in the dust. The day will come in which they will be found in all pursuits, achieving distinction and showing capabilities they were never supposed to possess." The destiny of the Negroes was left in their own hands. They had to bear and suffer toil and be patient; they had to carve their own futures, and this they are successfully doing.

Sixty years have passed since the shackles of the slaves were broken. The Negroes were at one time grossly ignorant, destitute of clothing, without homes and forced to bear much on account of the prejudice on account of color. This despised race today, after so few years, has made as much progress such as history now where else records.

The history of the Negro is unique. Their ignorance was equalled only by their poverty. The year 1876 marked the date of the complete inauguration of the public school system of the south. In 1885 Howard University, two Negroes, one of whom was selected by the faculty to represent the class on commencement day, as being the foremost scholar among his two hundred classmates; the other was elected by the class for the highest honor in their gift, by being made their class orator. In 1895 Boston University has also yielded first honor to a Negro. A Negro professor of theology at Straight University at New Orleans, was a graduate of Vermont University, who afterwards took the prize for traveling scholarship from the Yale Theological Seminary. In 1896, there were scarcely any Negro banks in Georgia in 1870 they could easily be counted. Who but a census taker would undertake such a task today? The Negro is taking a peaceful, useful and honorary place in the business and industrial world. In Georgia there are scores of physicians, pharmacists, lawyers and [illegible] Georgia mathematics or science in some college, or president of a university or college. He may be a lawyer, dentist, physician, pharmacist or a telegraph operator.

The Negro has done much for himself under great difficulties and the encouragements he has learned his superior position is open to him in just the same terms as any other citizen. Today we find the Negro, in every trade and profession, and in every walk of life is achieving a distinction.

INDIAN ESTABLISHES HIS OWN ART MUSEUM

KITWANGA, B. C., Oct. 7.—A museum of northwestern Indian art and workmanship, founded and directed by an Indian, is the unique boasst of the remote village of Kitwanga in the wilds of British Columbia, according to Harlan I. Smith, of the National Museum of Canada, who has been carrying on researches among the tribes of the Canadian West.

The museum is the property of John Loknitz, son of one of the two head chiefs of the Kitwanga Indians. John, who has probably never seen another museum in his life, has assembled in his exhibits numbers of rare Chilkat blankets, ceremonial masks, and other specimens of Indian art. The blankets, made of mountain goats' wool and red bark, are the most intricately woven fabrics in the world, and are valued at from $400 to $500 each. He also possesses a recording phonograph which was presented to him some years ago by C. Harris Barbeau, a student of Indian music. John has made many records of his own, which he plays for the entertainment of visitors. He proposes now to add to his museum a collection of photographs of Indians, showing tribal customs and ceremonies.

The chief charges no fee to see his museum, but to such tourists as may wish, he rents Indian costumes and blankets in which they have their photographs taken. He also plans to sell duplicates of his Indian photographs, and plaster casts of Indian totem poles and rock sculptures.

COLORED BUILD FOUNDATION FOR THE NEW $10,000,000 N. Y. PRESBYTERIAN CENTER

Race Contractor, One Time A Laborer, Employs 300 Men. Weekly Payroll Has Reached $10,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—Scores of colored laborers, skilled and unskilled, using modern building equipment valued at many thousand dollars, all being manned by a colored construction company, are working assiduously filling the establishments' contact to build the foundation of the new $10,000,000 Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, one of the biggest building contracts ever awarded a race construction company.

When the building contracts for the new medical center were sub-let by the general contractors, Marc Eidlitz and Sons, early last summer, the Irving Fireproof Centering Co. (colored) was awarded the foundation contract from among several bonafide bidders.

Manned by Negro Builders

The head of the colored company, Samuel A. Irving, stated that he would use more concrete in the foundation of the group of buildings composing the center than has ever been used in a single building operation.

Mr. Irving, who personally directs the foundation construction, is assisted by a staff which includes a civil engineer, a timekeeper, two colored foremen and two white foremen. Several times since he began work on this job, he has employed upwards to 300 men and his payroll has reached $10,000 weekly. A tunnel, running from Broadway to Fort Washington avenues, beneath the building, is included as a part of the foundation. An idea of the magitude of the job may be gained from the fact that the foundation alone will require more than six months to complete.

Samuel Irving has been connected with the building trade since he arrived in the country from the West Indies 21 years ago. For a while he worked in the carpenter's trade. Later became connected with a foundation construction company and worked his way up to be boss of a large number of white mechanics. He helped put in the foundations of such buildings as Gimbel's, Loew's State Theatre, and several other Broadway theatres and public buildings.

Fought Against Odds

He came to the conclusion a few years ago that he could make money for himself if his contractor since he was able to make it for others. His capital was comparatively small and he found difficulty in securing money for his contracting work, especially from among people of his own race.

When he was preparing to send in his bid for the hospital job, Mr. Irving needed $5,000 for a bond and other expenses. He says he sought financial assistance from several leading Negro business men and social organizations. All turned him down and he alleges that several tried to discourage him from undertaking such a big project. He was compelled to get the money he needed from white friends.

His civil engineer is William H. Dammond, one of the first colored graduates of the University of Pennsylvania and who for years was teacher of mathematics and science at Paul Quinn College, Waco, Texas, and later at Wilberforce University. Mr. Dammond was an engineer for the Michigan Central Railroad for seven years.

Lands Building Trade

All the mechanics employed by Mr. Irving are union men and he is a firm believer in trade unions. While union organizations have discriminated against the Negro in the past, the Negro mechanic now has a reasonably fair chance in the unions, says Mr. Irving.

He is also of the opinion that Negroes should go in more for the building trades. They are, he says, the largest industries in America and if a man can do the work, he will be given a chance.

NORFOLK, VA. PASSES SEGREGATION ORDINANCE DESPITE SUPREME COURT

Closely Resembles New Orleans Ordinance Against Which The N. A. A. C. P. Is Fighting

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, 69 Fifth Avenue, New York, has received through the courtesy of R. B. Young, editor of the Norfolk Journal and Guide, a copy of the segregation ordinance recently passed in Norfolk despite the decision by the United States Supreme Court, rendered in the Louisville Segregation Case of 1917, that segregation by law or ordinance was unconstitutional.

The ordinance, which closely resembles the New Orleans ordinance, on which a legal fight is being made by the N. A. A. C. P. which will carry it to the Supreme Court, reads in part as follows:

Section 1. That whenever the building inspector shall have notice or information that any person whomsoever proposes to construct a house for Negroes in a white community, or portion of the municipality inhabited by white people or a house for white persons in a Negro community, or portion of the municipality inhabited by Negroes, he shall not issue a building permit for the said house, except on the written consent of a majority of the persons of the opposite race inhabiting such a community, or portion of the city to be affected.

Section 2. That it shall be unlawful for any white person to hereafter establish a home residence on any property located in a Negro community, or portion of the municipality inhabited by Negroes, or for any Negro to establish a home residence on any property located in a white community, or portion of the municipality inhabited by white people, except upon the written consent of a majority of the persons of the opposite race inhabiting such community, or portion of the city to be affected; the aforesaid written consent to be filed with the City Manager.

Fines and imprisonment are provided as penalty for the violation of the ordinance.

$50,000 LIBEL SUIT AGAINST TEMPLARS' PAPER

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 7.—A suit for $50,000 damages has been filed against D. B. Gaines, editor of the Mosaic Guide, a weekly publication of the Mosaic Templars of America, for an alleged libelous article published in his paper last April 25th.

The plaintiff, L. H. Payne, charged the defendant with composing a false and malicious article about him and publishing it in his paper, which act damaged his honor, good name and reputation.

PAUL IN CORINTH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 18:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace."—Acts 18:9.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Protecting Paul.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul in Workshop and Pulpit.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul's Experiences in Corinth.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul Plants the Church in Corinth.

I. The True Missionary Method (vv. 1-3).

Paul came to Corinth a stranger in a strange city. He did not have an advance agent to do his advertising. His method in gaining a foothold in Corinth was as follows:

1. Finding a Home (v. 2).

This he found with Aquila and Priscilla, Jews, who were recently expelled from Rome by the cruel edict of Claudius.

2. He Toiled for His Daily Bread (v. 3).

He was of the same craft with them, being a tentmaker. Every child among the Jews was taught some trade by means of which he could gain a livelihood, should occasion require.

3. Preaching in the Synagogue at Corinth (vv. 4-8).

Though Compelled to Toil for a Living While Getting a Foothold in Corinth, He Did Not Lose Sight of His Main Work (v. 4).

He reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, persuading the Jews and Greeks. While the missionary should not be above honest toil when necessity arises, he must not allow toil to interfere with preaching the gospel.

4. His Activity Was Increased When Silas and Timothy Came (v. 5).

This resulted from three causes:

(1) They brought good news from the church at Thessalonica (1 Thess. 3:6).

To hear of the steadfastness of those who had confessed Christ under his ministry, put new vigor into his labors.

(2) They brought pecuniary gifts from the Macedonian church (Phil. 4:15; II Cor. 11:9).

Being relieved from the necessity of toiling for a living, he could now devote more time and energy to the preaching of the gospel.

(3) Silas and Timothy became assistants to Paul in the work.

3. Paul Opposed (v. 6).

His increased activity was met with increased opposition. As the Lord's ministers become more aggressive in their work, the ministers of Satan put forth corresponding efforts in opposition.

4. Paul Announces His Purpose to Turn to the Gentiles (vv. 6).

Because of their blasphemy and opposition, he ceases to work among the Jews. There is a time when good judgment causes one to abandon work where efforts have been fruitless, but it is difficult to know just when to do it. Oftentimes hasty haste is done to the work by pressing efforts when people have turned against the truth. Paul's declaration, "I am clean," was a most solemn one.

5. He Did Not Go Far Away (v. 7).

He remained sufficiently near those, whose hearts God had touched that they could easily find him. It is likewise true that although Christ is obliged to depart from the soul that refuses His entrance, He lingers with yearning love around that heart.

6. His Success (v. 8).

Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, was converted. Perhaps Paul's severe action in turning away from them aroused Crispus to act.

II. Paul's Vision (vv. 9-11).

His experiences since coming to Europe were very trying. He needed encouragement at this time. It is just like the Lord to come at the time of the servant's greatest need. Note the Lord's words to him.

1. "Be Not Afraid." When one is executing the commission of the Lord, he need not be afraid.

2. "Speak, and Hold Not Thy Peace." The one who has heard the voice of God cannot refrain from speaking. He cannot be still.

3. "I Am With Thee." The Lord is with every one who faithfully carries out His commission.

4. "No Man Shall Set on Thee, to Hurt Thee."

The one sent by the Lord to do a work is immune from danger and harm until his work is done.

5. "I Have Much People in This City." It is most encouraging to know that in the great cities the Lord has His own people, and that the one who goes in His name shall have fruit for his service.

All Are His

It is not the high summer alone that is God's. The winter also is His . . . and all man's winters are His—the winter of our poverty, the winter of our sorrow, the winter of unhappiness, even the winter of our discontent.—George Macdonald.

BEREA PRESBYTERIAN

The three great objectives which should be as burdens on the heart of every member who loves his church and his Lord are quoting the General Assembly's Special Commission, first "The Peace of the Church" Our group is not so much concerned in the Modernist and Fundamentalist controversy. We believe the Bible is the Word of God.

Second, "Special Evangelistic Effort—The winning of man into the fellowship of Christ is the supreme business of the church. Three thousand churches did not receive a single member on confession of faith last year. The majority of individual Presbyterians must confess—or share in the guilt of this failure, for I did no personal work to win men."

Third, "Lift the Budget Every" National Missions and Christian Education Boards closed the year with a debt of $700,000. The church never faced a greater opportunity to show her love and faith in prayer. Don't quarrel with the budget, pray for it. Let every church make a conscientious effort to raise its quota."

Our local budget of $3,500 welcome is double that of last year. Instead of quarrelling with such a raise let us raise the raise. Let us by our gifts next Sunday reach the high objective so that we may turn our undivided attention to the supreme business of the church. Evangelistic effort.

Mrs. W. O. and Miss Myrtle Kauffin and Mrs. Ella Wiley were fellowshipped, being the only ones able to be present of seven received by the session. Women's Missionary Society Thursday October 15th. Read the literature being given out each Sunday.

QUARTERLY MEETING AT LANE SUNDAY

Sunday is the day of the supreme fall climax at Lane Tabernacle C. M. E. church, when every member and friend will step out with the Board or Auxiliary they happen to adorn and do their best to make it loud. It's impossible to say "Auxiliary Night" in Lane. Even if you are not a member, you get the big hearted altruistic way of the members and find yourself taking the loving spirit body. There will be many things to make the rally a big event as Presiding Elder S. S. Lander will be present and conduct the fourth quarterly meeting. It is pretty hard to say just which group leader will come out on top Sunday night. Truthfully speaking, we are not picking any one, but you can take your choice between Mrs. Emma Bradford of the Trustees Auxiliary and Mrs. O. W. Johnson, past graduate of the Bryan School. If you are still doubtful you might jot down the name of Mr. Elmer Phelps, dean of Lane Tabernacle Sunday School. Dignity and wholesome hospitality predominated at the "Good Will" banquet given in honor of Rev. H. W. Evans by the Board of Trustees last Monday night. Revs. T. H. Copeland and C. G. Mastwell were the visiting speakers. After the program, the dining room with its adorable Negro presented the most charming scene we have yet seen in "Lane," for some time. Mr. J. F. Carter, president extraordinary and Mr. W. H. Gore, master of ceremonies, did a wonderful thing with the help of the adorable ladies. Bishop James A. Hamlet of the eighth district was the guest of "Lane" Sunday and preached two mighty sermons.

CENTENNIAL CHRISTIAN

The Boys Y. M. C. A. of Ellendsville held their fall opening banquet in the Christian Church. Many parents and visitors were present. Sunday services were good. A very interesting Bible School. "Get Your Goat contest" will begin Sunday. We hope all members will report for morning and night services, as this will be our annual Fall Rally. We are looking for you and all of our friends.

SAYS WOMEN LEAD MEN

Associated Negro Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 16—Declaring that, by a subtle display of their cunning, women of today have virtually erected the yoke of leadership over men, Chauncey Townsend, news editor of the Pacific Defender and well known newspaper man, emphasizing the need of young men of today preparing themselves for worthwhile and fruitful endeavor in an address before approximately 1100 people at Philips Temple C. M. E. church Sunday night.

"No greater evidence of the Negro woman's alarm over the passiveness and laziness of her men can possible be seen," said Townsend, "than in the larger responsibility she is taking in the affairs of the world.

"Women today earn fully sixty per cent of the race's income. They do this in divers occupations, some of which men would scorn and do scorn. But silently, gradually and with the force of a nation-wide revolution, Negro women everywhere are realizing that the material progress of the race to a large extent depends upon their contributions in the sense of hard labor and full participation in political and social reform.

"Unless the men of the Negro race awaken to this fact, twenty-five years from now will find them as circumscribed in their field of activity and influence in the community as the Indians of North America are now in the United States," he concluded.

BOYS DIE FOR ONE ANOTHER

Associated Negro Press

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., Sept. 16—Four boys, raging in age from 12 to 14 years, are dead here, the result of drowning in an attempt to save one another's lives. The boys were Sylvain Spain, Ernest Dancy, Theodore Stancell and Lemon Worsley. It is claimed that the boys were swimming in the Tar River when Dancy got out too far. The boys took over to his aid, but could not help him and the other two also made a futile attempt to save their playmates. When rescuers got to the scene, only the bodies of the four were found.

Be Beautiful

This column is conducted by Madame Katherine Wilson, author of the Successful Hairdresser and founder of Solo California Sun Parlor and School of Beauty Culture in Omaha, Nebraska. She will be glad to answer in this column all questions of a reasonable length. When space will not permit, she will answer correspondents who enclose postage for a return reply. Questions for her should be addressed to Madame Katherine Wilson, 3423 Indiana Ave., The Associated Negro Press, Chicago, Ill.

Miss Alberta—There is no reason why your hair should appear straight to the extent of being stringy after the use of a straightening with a hot iron. Why not have the operator put in a large marcel?- I have seen many pretty waved coiffures made from hair which had been previously straightened.

Miss Idlewild—There is no reason why you should worry about a healthy growth of hair during this winter. It only proves that you are a modern girl and not one of the old fashioned ornaments whose face and arms were protected by wide bonnets of chiffon, and arm length gloves.

It is indeed a pleasure for me to aid you in getting those sunburned hues from your face. The shades of evening dresses that you are looking forward to wearing this fall.

Before retiring, scrub the arms vigorously with a good bath brush, using a pure soap. Then dry the arms with a coarse bath towel and apply a heavy coat of cold cream from the tips of the fingers to the shoulders and massage the entire arm, paying particular attention to the elbows. Next sprinkle a thick coating of almond meal over the cold cream. The almond meal will adhere to the cream and form a paste. Then wrap a bath towel about a half dozen times. Wipe off the remaining paste with the damp towels (do not wash), allowing the cream left on the arm to soak into the skin.

Repeat this process until the arms are velvety and free of freckles and tan. I am quite sure they will be beautiful to behold long before you are ready to wear those new fall frocks. But if my treatment should fail, you should worry because long sleeve are all the rage this fall.

Sandy—Those morning exercises and your daily dozen, done in regard to that wonderful Edison, ought to bring any woman down to that popular 110 size, providing she observed strict rules of diet.

Find another boarding place. Those wonderfully cooked meals and rich salads that you prepare for yourself and friends are counteracting the good effect of your persistent exercising. You will also have to eliminate the regular half brick of cream before retiring.

Further more, can't you see how much more popular you will be with the boys at the club, when you order, instead of the regular meal, a pot of tea with a slice of lemon and dry toast?

CONTENTMENT

I want but little here below,
Nor need that little long;
Just a little bit of sunshine;
A little bit of song.

Just a little bit of gladness;
A little bit of cheer;
Just to drive away the sadness,
And keep the sunshine here.

Just a little bit of friendship;
A little bit of love,—
Stars that dispel the darkest gloom,
Like sunbeams from above.

A little bit of sympathy
To ease the heart's dull ache;
A pleasant dream to light my sleep;
Fond thoughts to charm me wake.

A little bit of home's sweet bliss,
The humble cottage's joys;
Code of good's sweet and simple woes.
Life's most enduring joys.

I only ask a star and faith
To follow it by; God;
And love's sweet flowers by the way
To beautify the sod.

I have the star, I have the faith:
I'm climbing up to God.
O give me love's sweet flowers
To beautify the sod.

If you like to solve puzzles, why not study nature—including human nature?

Delmon never makes it appearance in a love affair until the affair is over.

A cry, a rifle shot, the distant baying
Of bloodhounds on the chase—the mob's wild yells
Break thru the peaceful beauty of the eve;
And peace and joy are flown; anxiety
And dread Uneasiness wild Restlessness
Hurl me into the night that suddenly
Has fallen like a horrid shroud of doom.

MR. HUNGER WOLF

MR. FOX and two of his neighbors were sitting around the place one night in Mr. Fox's kitchen.

Mr. Fox had been sitting quietly listening. Not a word had he spoken for Mr. Fox was lost in thought and you may be certain he was not thinking about anyone else but Mr. Fox.

It had suddenly occurred to him that he had heard his grandfather tell a story about old Mr. Hunger Wolf that always appeared to the wood folk when the winter had been long and cold.

"Yes," spoke up Mr. Fox, "it does seem mighty hard on us folks here in the woods these long cold winters and of course that is the very time that old Mr. Hunger Wolf gets in his work."

"Who?" inquired Mr. Possum and Mr. Coon, their eyes growing large with fright.

"Mr. Hunger Wolf," replied Mr. Fox, gazing into the fire as if he had no idea they were scared. "Did you never hear about him?"

Mr. Coon and Mr. Possum shook their heads and looked around to make sure the window and the door to Mr. Fox's house were securely fastened.

"He is a pretty bad creature to meet," replied Mr. Fox, "worse than any I have ever heard of, but as he never comes around only in the winter time when there has been a long cold spell we have nothing to fear at present.

"We can hide somewhere, where he cannot find us," suggested Mr. Possum.

"That is the worst of old Hunger Wolf," said Mr. Fox. "My grandfather said he could get in anywhere, did not have to go through a doorway; the only way to keep him out is to have plenty of food on hand."

"To feed him?" inquired Mr. Possum.

"No, to feed yourself," answered Mr. Fox. "He never comes near those who eat plenty and sleep much."

The next night as soon as it was dark enough for hunting Mr. Coon and Mr. Possum started out with big bags over their shoulders while Mr. Fox stayed at home to dig a place in his cellar for the winter stores.

When the hunters returned the next morning and looked at the hole Mr. Fox had made Mr. Possum remarked that it was deep enough to hold all three of them and a few others their size.

"That is about what will happen unless you bring in enough food to fill it," said Mr. Fox in a solemn tone of voice. "A full storeroom is all that will keep old Hunger Wolf from the door. But of course you do not have to stay here, Mr. Possum. I am certain that your own soft bed will be far more comfortable than my poor house."

Mr. Possum hastened to say that he was just joking. He knew perfectly well it would take a whole lot of food to keep away Hunger Wolf, and he was willing to do his share of the hunting.

For many nights Mr. Coon and Mr. Possum worked and every morning they returned with full bags and added to their supplies.

At last the deep hole in the cellar was filled with food. "Now we must finish storing wood," said Mr. Fox. "I have a bad spell of rheumatism, I am sorry to say, so you fellows will have to finish bringing in the fuel. I can manage to hobble about and cook our dinner."

When spring came Mr. Coon and Mr. Possum ran off to their own homes but before they parted at the end of the path in the woods, Mr. Possum said: "It strikes me that Mr. Fox got the best of our winter arrangement and he is by far the fattest of the three."

"Yes," replied Mr. Coon, "he always cooked the meals which he said was the hardest part of the work, but I noticed that he was never hungry when he came to the table. Next winter I shall watch for old Hunger Wolf from a tall tree and not from a home on the ground."

Mr. Fox was laughing to himself as he stretched out in the sun by his door. "Well, I shall have to work all summer, I suppose," he said, "but I lived by my wits this past winter and I am a pretty slick looking animal, which goes to prove that I am a very clever creature, very clever, indeed."

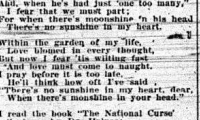
Save the Drunkard

Sunshine vs. Moonshine



(Written by a woman who saved her husband from the drinking evil)

My man is very good to me,
So loyal, kind and true.
He never comes home really drunk,
As other husbands do.
But sometimes, when he's "got too much,"
I wish that I were dead;
For there's no sunshine in my heart,
When moonshine is his head.

Some folks can laugh at such a plight
Of some poor drunken fool,
To me there's naught but aching heart
And pity for Satan's tool.
Ah!, when he's had just "one too many,"
I fear that we must part;
For when there's moonshine in his head
There's no sunshine in my heart.

Within the garden of my life
Love blossed in every thought,
But now I fear his wilting fast
And love must come to naught.
I pray before it is too late,
Heal! think how old I've said;
"There's no sunshine in my heart, dear,
When there's moonshine in your head."

I read the book "The National Curse"
Sent me by Dr. Haines;
And I used the "Golden Treatment"
To break the galling chains.
The splendid manhood underneath
I feed from Satan's snare;
Since there's no moonshine in his had,
Our hearts have sunshine there.

I gave the powder secretly,
He never even knew,
Oh, wamap, do the same today,
The cost was under two.
Our lives are very different,
Since that first meal I fixed;
In our hearts are floods of sunshine,
And no moonshine in his head.

Save those near and dear to you from a life of degradation, misery and disgrace. You can do it by cutting out this coupon.

Just what is the Ku Klux Klan and what are its purposes? R. L. J., Syracuse, N. Y.

It would require too much space to give a detailed explanation of the Klan and its purposes. Briefly it is a social, political and secret order for the purpose of controlling the United States government, making and administering its laws and controlling its economic policies.

The Law and the Mob—

In Detroit, Michigan, the same law which defines a mob as being instrumentality of lawlessness has held eleven race people for first degree murder, all because two alleged units of a mob, said to be bent upon shattering the hope and the home of a Negro who had exercised his constitutional rights by purchasing property upon a site which suited him best, were shot to death somehow, somewhere, by alleged defenders of the home and the Constitutional rights of the colored tenant. The mob was Hell-bent upon a lawless errand. The police wing of the law was, as usual, too heavy for light work and too light for heavy work. By precedent, police, sheriff and other makeshift protection usually available to parties confronted by mobs (usually Negroes) is very, very thin; and colored people are, little by little, realizing that self preservation is the first law of nature.

Anyhow, the Law, which seems ready for the great City of Detroit to prevent the formation of a cowardly mob, failed equally in giving full and equal protection to the citizens of its Commonwealth. And in some way, two souls were prematurely given the password to the cemetery. Now, says the Law, this is murder in the first degree, which unlawful in this State; and its perpetrators must be duly punished. One of the deceased, says the Law, was an innocent bystander, bent upon a peaceful mission and within his full Constitutional rights was entitled to PROTECTION—as much, we presume, as the Negro tenant, buffeted and terrorized by the mob, unhampered by the Law.

The Law also says that just one step by a mob looking to the consummation of an unlawful objective is ground for defense. The Law does not define just what that defense shall be. That is a question for a jury. But a child of tender years just what defense eleven terrorized Negroes could, would, and should make when opposed by five thousand "BRAVE" patriots who were trying to PROTECT their block from invasion by the unwelcomed members of a proscribed race.

The Law will decide the fate of these eleven "murderers" who tried to defend their lives and property. We don't know but that, like Loeb and Leopold and Harry K. Thaw, they may have been insane; or that they, as principals of the first degree, and accessories before and after the fact, without just cause therefor, with felonious intent did intice the mob to their midst and there and then did aid, but only to take the sacred lives of two of its most ardent members, against the peace and dignity of the State. Is a man's home no longer his castle? Has the full and equal protection of all the citizens of the State and of the United States gone to the four winds? Before jumping into the Atlantic Ocean, we will await the answer of the Law.

Pullman Porters Organize—

In Harlem, New York, reports a tremendous drive for organization of the faithful Pullman porters; and in two weeks it is estimated that two thousand of these colorful railroad men have banded themselves together for the promotion of their united work welfare. Similar drives, it is said, are contemplated in six or eight other metropolitan areas, with the ultimate view of enrolling every Pullman porter into a compact body for the purpose of being able better to bargain collectively. Weeks, some time ago, the Pullman Company appointed a special agent, C. Cornelius Webb, to perform mediatory work up and down the lines operating. Pullman cars, it was probably evident that no united petition or appeal could be forthcoming from the more than 20,000 train and Pullman porters, who had neither head nor tail to express their united wishes and desires. The unification of the Pullman porters is the answer to this need, in order that the wealthy Pullman Company can be made to see itself as its employees see it.

In all, there are approximately 136,000 Negro rail hands who are directly engaged in handling or safeguarding the transportation of persons or property over the lines of the various steam railway carriers of the United States. This total includes 6,000 telegraphers, as well as engineers, firemen, inspectors of way and structures, telegraph and telephone linemen, conductors, baggagemen and freight agents, switchmen and flagmen, foremen and overseers, boiler washers and engine hostlers, brakemen, laborers, and miscellaneous workers. Nevertheless, it is more than apparent that in none of their occupations, save that of straight Pullman porters and dining-car waiters, does the Negro railway employee enjoy the merited fullness of his occupation in wages, advancement, and conditions of labor. There is no good reason why, as public servants, the Negro railway hand should not be permitted to rise to the heights of the particular occupation which he applies. Collective bargaining is a barbaric practice of slavery; nor is that institution considered any blot upon the uplift status of a combination which loudly proclaims the lesson of love and calls upon the nations of the world to pledge themselves to Peace, Eternal Peace.

As one statesman of ours said, perchance the League's announced policy to concern not itself with the domestic affairs of nations is the cause of its failure to function in a peaceful practice the world has ever known. And yet, says another, the League has time and time again busied itself with complaints against the drug traffic, ammunition, arms, and other natural fallacies of domestic concern. But SLAVERY? NIX! This simple practice is of no international concern. The bleaching bones of warfare the League would banish, forever and ever; BUT THE BLEACHING BLEEDING BODIES OF HUMAN BEINGS ARE NOT OF MUCH INTERNATIONAL CONCERN.

While walking down the street of Geneva the League of Nations pauses to admonish drug adicts and perilous trade economists. But Slavery Drivers? Never! As to them, the League of Nations, with a Utopian smile, blindly passes them by, like ostrich who sticks his head in the sand, and leaves his ponderous body for the Ghouls of Civilization's graveyard to Plunder.

The Leak in The League—

The League of Nations, coddled pet of the late President Woodrow Wilson and other Twentieth Century Utopians, has sprung a leak by revealing the startling fact that at the same time that it is a defender of slavery. In fact, slavery is a legal institution in Abyssinia, a member of the League, and in two other countries, Hedjaz and Afghanistan, which, says the League's commission on entrance, "seem to be eligible for admission." So far as can be learned, the League has expressed no regret, as said, perchance the League's announced policy to concern not itself with the domestic affairs of nations is the cause of its failure to function in a peaceful practice the world has ever known. And yet, says another, the League has time and time again busied itself with complaints against the drug traffic, ammunition, arms, and other natural fallacies of domestic concern. But SLAVERY? NIX! This simple practice is of no international concern. The bleaching bones of warfare the League would banish, forever and ever; BUT THE BLEACHING BLEEDING BODIES OF HUMAN BEINGS ARE NOT OF MUCH INTERNATIONAL CONCERN.

American Education Week—

Hon. John T. Tigert, U. S. Commissioner of Education, has announced the proclamation by the Bureau of which he is chief, of American Education Week, November 16 to 22, 1925, under the joint auspices of the National Education Association and the American Legion. The Commissioner has announced a splendid program and states in his announcements: "I am suggesting that additional emphasis be placed upon such phases of education as are being specifically stressed in our program this year. Among them are respect for authority, patriotism, better trained and better paid teachers, the improvement of rural schools, more adequately equipped school buildings, conservation of national resources and thrift, and health education."

As affecting the Negro school student there are certain outstanding items which we desire briefly to emphasize as worthy of unstinted stimulation, both during and after American Education Week: (1) Improvement of Rural Schools; (2) Better Trained and Paid Teachers; (3) More Adequately Equipped Buildings;

Connie Mack's Negro Mascots—

Cornelius McGillicuddy, popularly known as Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia baseball team in the American League, which has been a strenuous pennant contender this season, has added two colored boys to his staff, as mascots for his fast-traveling Athletics. This is the most radical move any major league manager has made in the annals of baseball, although no one has forgotten the affection manifested by the New York Giants at the idea of their decorated Negro trainer nor can the fair-mindedness of John J. McGraw be ignored when he said that he could pick a team of colored baseball players which could defeat the pennant winner in either major league. Connie Mack, however, has actually performed the impossible by conferring upon two little colored boys the unadulterated masculinity of his team.

Mascots, of course, whether black, brown or green, cannot change the playing qualities of any team. They can, however, slowly change the attitude of that part of the blunderso- public which has been wont to feel that the Negro baseball world, like so many other colorful entities, must not aspire to have representatives on world championship teams. The spectacle of two Negro boys on Mack's bench might, through the years, develop into the reality of having a Petway, a Mendez, or a Charleston adorning some world's series bench in the far distant future, as an advocate of one hundred per cent baseball, first, and a reminder of any particular species of race last.

Mr. McGillicuddy has set a fine example to the baseball world by, at least giving the race representation at the foot of the world baseball ladder. Too, he has demonstrated in a small matter the fairness which he has always demonstrated upon the diamond. May we sincerely hope that Philadelphia wins the championship, for then we would have minature representation, as a starter, in the world's series; and the future could take care of itself.

and (4) Greater Public Interest, through representation and through money allotments.

The Negro school should be more sympathetically represented in the public offices which determine its livelihood and its directorate. Negroes should be appointed to public boards of education for the purpose of interpreting the peculiar needs of their school group to those who dispense funds and shape school courses. Discrimination in funds and school provisions is, too, a most baneful check upon the aspiration of Negro school youth, to whom every public educational avenue and utility should be available upon the same terms as to other people.

American educational methods and practices, as affected by public interest, have been too frequently influenced by voluntary and involuntary prejudice, upon the part of those whites who promote distinction, and upon the part of a few Negro educators and teachers who, for a lucrative job, will readily trade the public school rights of their constituents. This is an evil which has advanced rapidly during the past decade, in effect it fully matches the inferior rural schools and poorly equipped buildings, the open result wherever separate systems for white and colored are maintained. The school student and the public are reciprocally accountable to each other; and the latter must not be allowed to shirk its duty as it has so frequently done in the past. Zeal to "keep the Negro in his place" has no place in the public's program for its State, County or City educational plans; and it is up to the Negro press and guardians of America to bring this fact to public notice at all times.

American Education Week should mean more than a week of celebration to us and our group. It should be the occasion for pledging constructive aims and efforts toward the further emancipation of our Youth from the slough of ignorance.
